What Is Lobbying Under the LDA?

Who Is a Lobbyist?
The Lobbying Disclosure Act (LDA) defines a lobbyist as anyone who makes more than one lobbying contact and spends more than 20 percent of his or her time on lobbying activities.

What Are Lobbying Contacts?
Lobbying contacts are actual communications with covered officials and may be oral, written, or electronic. A communication with a covered official is a “lobbying contact” if it involves:

1. the formulation, modification, or adoption of federal legislation, including legislative proposals;
2. the formulation, modification, or adoption of a federal rule, regulation, Executive Order, or any other program, policy, or position of the United States government;
3. the administration or execution of a federal program or policy, including the negotiation, award, or administration of a federal contract, grant, loan, permit, or license; or
4. the nomination or confirmation of a person for a position subject to confirmation by the Senate.

Exceptions: There are 19 classes of communications that are not “lobbying contacts” under the LDA, although they may constitute “lobbying activities” if they are made in support of other communications that constitute lobbying contacts:

Public Activities
1. testimony given before a committee or subcommittee of Congress (that is included in the public record);
2. speeches, articles, or publications of other material that is made available to the public or is distributed through radio, television, cable television, or other methods of mass communication;
3. communications made by a representative of a media organization if the purpose of the communication is gathering and disseminating news and information to the public;

Requests for Information
4. information provided in writing in response to a request by a covered executive or legislative branch official (the request may be oral or written);
5. information required by subpoena or civil investigative demand, or otherwise compelled by statute, regulation, or other action of Congress or an agency (including information compelled by a contract, grant, loan, permit, or license);

Regulatory Activities
6. communications in response to a notice in the Federal Register or similar publications and directed toward the agency official listed in the notice;
7. communications that are made on the record in a public proceeding;
8. written comments filed in the course of a public proceeding;
9. petitions for agency action made in writing and made part of the public record;
10. communications made to an agency official regarding a civil, criminal, or administrative inquiry, investigation, filing, or proceeding;
Governmental and Legally Protected Communications

11. made by a public official acting in his or her official capacity;
12. made in the course of participation in an advisory committee subject to the Federal Advisory Committee Act;
13. between officials of a “self-regulatory organization” registered with or established by the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), or designated by or registered with the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC), and officials of the SEC and CFTC;
14. not possible to report without disclosing information, the unauthorized disclosure of which is prohibited by law;
15. disclosures made under the Whistleblower Protection Act;

Miscellaneous Communications

16. related to administrative requests, such as requests for a meeting or about the status of a matter (as long as the request does not include an attempt to influence a covered official);
17. made on behalf of a foreign government or a foreign political party and disclosed under the Foreign Agents Registration Act;
18. made on behalf of an individual and related to that individual’s particular personal matters, but only if made to that individual’s elected Members of Congress or employees under the direct supervision of those Members;
19. made by certain churches, their integrated auxiliaries, conventions or associations of churches, or religious orders, exempt from filing federal income tax returns.

What Is Lobbying Activity?

Lobbying activities include lobbying contacts and efforts in support of such contacts, including preparation and planning activities, research, and other background work that is intended, at the time it is performed, for use in lobbying contacts, and coordination with the lobbying activities of others.

Who Is a Covered Official?

Under the LDA, covered officials include certain members of the legislative and executive branches of the federal government.

Covered Legislative Branch Official: Virtually every person working for Congress—from the receptionist to the chief of staff—is a covered official for purposes of the LDA. A “covered legislative branch official” includes:

1. Members of Congress;
2. Elected officers of either the House or the Senate;
3. Any employee, or any other individual functioning in the capacity of an employee, who works for a Member of Congress, a committee of either House of Congress, the leadership staff of either the House or the Senate, a joint committee of Congress, or a working group or caucus organized to provide services to Members; and
4. Officers and employees of Congress who file financial disclosure reports with the Clerk of the House and Secretary of the Senate under the Ethics in Government Act (5 U.S.C. App. § 101 et seq.).

Covered Executive Branch Official: Unlike the nearly blanket definition of covered legislative branch officials, only the most senior executive branch employees and officials are considered “covered officials” for purposes of the LDA. Still, the list encompasses dozens of positions. A “covered executive branch official” includes:

1. The President;
2. The Vice President;
3. Any officer or employee, or any other individual functioning as such, in the Executive Office of the President;
4. Any officer or employee in a position listed in Levels I through V of the Executive Schedule;
5. Any member of the uniformed services serving at pay grade O-7 or above (e.g., admirals and generals); and
6. Schedule C political appointees.

The “Executive Schedule” delineates the most senior positions in the administration, such as Cabinet secretaries, deputy secretaries, under secretaries, and assistant secretaries, as well as agency commissioners and directors. The appendix to this guide lists those positions. Senior Executive Service (SES) employees—senior career government officials—are not covered officials unless they are on the Executive Schedule.

Schedule C posts are typically non-career policymaking or “political” appointees, and confidential secretaries and administrative assistants of key appointees within an agency. Not all agencies, however, use Schedule C posts for such appointees because the agency organic statute provides for such political appointments outside of Schedule C. For example, the FCC and the FTC have very few Schedule C appointees, even though there are political appointees and confidential assistants at those agencies. However, such individuals are not covered officials under the LDA because they are not Schedule C employees.

Under the LDA, an employee, if asked, must say whether he or she is a covered official.
